Brand Story...

The few good people in the food business wanted everything they served to be of such quality that they could eat it in their own home. For this, they decided to offer products to their friends around the principles they dreamed of creating a brand.

They thought about the things that inspired them for the brand name. All products had to be both delicious and healthy enough to feed to their own children. They agreed that the real owner of this effort in life is mothers.

Those who want to buy the designed products should not be deceived about the price, and they should be able to buy as much as they want. Our fathers were definitely the ones who struggled in these features.

The name was spontaneously formed by the true owners of the inspiring traits. The first two letters of the words Mom and Dad came together and the name MODA was born. And every time we look at us, it reminds us of our ideals...
